

Integrative Case & Implementation Process – Thomas M. Jindra

Overview

Learning is a perishable commodity. New knowledge is often lost unless it is used in a practical way. The last session is designed to integrate the learning from previous sessions into a case study that enables us to practice our new skills in case study mode.

Course Topics

- Pulling it all together
- Building a Process for Implementation
- Execution Skills
- Developing a Culture of Performance

Course Outcomes: Upon completing the course, participants should be able to:

- Understand how to implement new learning in the workplace
- Build Methodologies for Implementation and Execution
- Enhance business potential through use of new skills and knowledge
- Link organizations to overall business strategy to maximize potential.
