

Completion of 1st Term for Admission

When a student is admitted to the School of Business, they are required to COMPLETE a full semester (fall or spring) as a School of Business student to remain in the school. This will affect students that drop classes before the semester begins or withdraw from the University during any of the drop periods. If a student does not complete their first term of admission, they must reapply through competitive admission for re-entrance to the School of Business.
